RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $17.6 million to $62.7 million from December 31, 2017 to June 30, 2018. The Fund had net redemptions of $22.9 million for the period. The portfolio's performance increased assets by $5.3 million. Common Units returned 6.2% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended June 30, 2018. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned 6.8%. The benchmark is the Morningstar® US Target Momentum Index™. Please refer to the "Past Performance" section which outlines the performance of the Fund's other units of securities.

U.S. equity markets were volatile during the first half of 2018, with sizeable swings in both directions. Investors weighed supportive economic data and corporate earnings on one hand, against the prospect of resurgent inflation, trade policy uncertainty and other geopolitical issues on the other. The Canadian market, while still positive, did underperform, with the S&P/TSX Composite Index having a total return of 2.0% for the first half of 2018. Canadian consumer spending slowed to 1.1% in the first quarter of 2018 amid rising interest rates. However, stronger U.S. demand, higher oil prices and federal infrastructure spending should support growth in second half of the year.

While underlying global growth remained solid, financial markets remained focused on risks. An escalation of the trade war was looking increasingly likely, as the U.S. threatened further tariffs, and China promised to reciprocate. Uncertainty surrounding the U.K.'s exit from the European Union has undermined U.K. growth and could slow the European economy. In Italy, a coalition government of two populist parties with plans to expand fiscal policy through tax cuts and spending increases has raised concerns about the country's high public debt. More recently, the European Central Bank ("ECB") declared its intention to wind down asset purchases over the remainder of the year. The ECB anticipates the current monthly pace of €30 billion will be halved in October and then completely ceased at the end of the year. On a more positive note, North and South Korea have agreed to a denuclearization deal.

On the interest rate front, the U.S. Federal Reserve Board ("the Fed") raised the federal funds rate by 25 basis points twice in the first half of 2018 and indicated that it expects to raise interest rates four times during the year. To justify the changes in the expected interest rate path, the Fed upgraded its growth and core inflation forecasts for 2018, while expecting the unemployment rate to continue to decline. The U.S. 10-year bond yield ended June at 2.9%, climbing up from 2.4% at the beginning of January. In the middle of January, the Bank of Canada ("BoC") raised interest rates on strong economic data. It was the BoC's third increase since last summer, following increases in July and September of 2017. While the BoC signaled that more interest rate increases are likely over time, it highlighted the potentially negative impacts related to the outcome of North American Free Trade Agreement negotiations.

Exposure to the health care, consumer discretionary and industrials sectors contributed to the Fund's performance. The top three individual contributors to performance included holdings in ABIOMED Inc., Weight Watchers International Inc. and Inspire Inc. The largest individual detractors from performance included holdings in Extreme Networks Inc., LendingTree Inc. and W&T Offshore Inc.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

First Asset believes that global expansion will continue in the latter half of 2018, though at a lesser pace than in 2017. Earnings in North America have remained robust so far this year and look to do so in the upcoming earnings season. Economic data in North America remains strong, particularly with respect to job growth, but there have been early signs of inflation. Commodities have also begun to improve, with both energy and metals pricing on the rise. Further interest rate increases are expected for the remainder of 2018, which should result in higher bond yields, putting negative pressure on bond prices.

Effective April 1, 2018, Stuart Hensman became a member of the Independent Review Committee ("IRC") of the Fund. Meanwhile, Carl Solomon resigned from the role as a member of the IRC.

Notes:

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's unaudited interim and audited annual financial statements. The term "net assets" used in this report and the term "net assets attributable to holders of redeemable securities" used in the Fund's financial statements are interchangeable.

(2) Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of securities outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of securities outstanding over the financial period.

(3) Distributions were paid in cash.

(4) This is not a reconciliation of the beginning and ending net assets per security.

(5) This information is provided as at June 30, 2018 and December 31 of the year shown.

(6) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund in which the Fund has invested and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

(7) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively First Asset manages the Fund's portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.

(8) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund in which the Fund has invested.

(9) Closing market price.

The fee is based on the net asset value of the relevant class, and is calculated daily and paid monthly in arrears. Out of the management fees received, First Asset pays for general administration and profit. General administration covers most costs and expenses relating to the operation of the Fund including investment management, administration, legal, accounting, custody, audit, registrar and transfer agency fees, index licensing fees (if applicable) and expenses associated with the advertising, marketing and promoting the sale of the units of the Fund, subject to certain exclusions as noted in the Fund's prospectus. In addition to investment advisory and portfolio management, the services provided by First Asset to the Fund include, without limitation, the proper oversight to ensure implementation of the Fund's investment strategies, negotiating contracts with certain third-party service providers, authorizing the payment of operating expenses incurred on behalf of the Fund, maintaining certain accounting and financial records, calculating the amount and determining the frequency of distributions by the Fund, ensuring that securityholders are provided with financial statements and other reports as are required from time to time by applicable law, ensuring that the Fund complies with all other regulatory requirements including continuous disclosure obligations under applicable securities law and administering purchases, redemptions and other transactions in securities. Where the Fund invests in other investment funds, in accordance with the provisions of National Instrument 81-102, First Asset ensures that there is no duplication of management fees charged by the Fund and any other underlying investment fund for the same service.
